

Data protection of The Ark Foundation

Use of the site

Any use of this website and the services offered by it (such as newsletters, online ordering, etc.) is subject to the user's prior acceptance of these general terms and conditions.

All elements of this website are protected by intellectual property legislation and by copyright law.

No part of this site, whether graphic, iconographic, textual, video or sound, may be copied, republished, stored in a data retrieval and extraction system or reproduced in any form and by any means without the express permission of the Ark Foundation.

The Ark Foundation strives to provide accurate and up-to-date information on its website. However, it cannot guarantee the accuracy, reliability and completeness of the information contained or referred to therein.

In addition, system failures such as interruptions, virus attacks or data loss cannot be excluded.

Finally, the Ark Foundation reserves the right to add to, modify or delete its website and the information published on it at any time and without prior notice.

Attendance statistics

Access to the pages of this website is recorded for statistical purposes, resulting in feedback on the behavior of users of the sites. These statistics are collected in a completely anonymous manner.

This website uses Google Analytics to analyze the website's audience, a website analysis service provided free of charge by Google Inc. ("Google").

Google Analytics uses cookies, which are text files placed on your computer, to help the website analyze how users use the site. The data generated by cookies about the use of the site (including the IP address) is transmitted and stored on servers located in the United States. These are the IP address, geographical origin, date of visit, duration of visit, pages viewed and page sequence. This information is used to evaluate the use of the site, compile reports on site activity for its publisher and provide other services related to site activity and Internet use.

Google may also transfer this information to third parties where required to do so by law or where such third parties process the information on their behalf, including but not limited to the publisher of this website. They will not match the IP address with any other data held. The use of cookies can be disabled by selecting the appropriate browser settings. However, such deactivation may prevent the use of certain features of this site.

Data Security

The Ark Foundation has taken appropriate organizational and technical measures to prevent any accidental or deliberate manipulation of this website, as well as any loss, destruction of data or unauthorized access during its use.

Protection of personal data

Personal data are only collected when the user voluntarily provides them to the Ark Foundation by filling in a form on the website, in particular when registering.

The Ark Foundation only collects the data strictly necessary for the performance of the service.

This data will be used exclusively for the processing and execution of the service as well as to send invitations to future events or newsletters (unsubscribe possible at any time with a single click). If necessary, they may be communicated to service providers involved in the performance of the service. The data thus transmitted may only be used to carry out the service. No other use is permitted by third parties other than the Ark Foundation.
